Your house

The names of our residential houses at Oversands School are Merewood, Cragwood and Coach. we are situated on the main school site in Witherslack.

Merewood has nine bedrooms, Cragwood has three bedrooms. This is one of the bedrooms to give you an idea of what your room could look like:

Each young person has a room of their own with an en-suite bathroom that has a shower, sink and toilet. You will be responsible for keeping your room tidy with the help from staff.

We would like you to personalise your room when you start with us, you can decorate with your favourite colours, choose your own bedding and put pictures and posters on your walls. It’s really important that you make this ‘your’ bedroom where you feel comfortable and safe.

This is our main bathroom, for when you might want to have a nice soak and relax in the bath.

This is the kitchen / dining room, our main area where we can eat and spend time together.

These photos are of our lounge and games room. The lounge is a lovely space to relax, do crafts, watch TV or use the computer. You can also use this room to meet with any visitors that you might have so you can talk in private. The games room has a selection of consoles and board games, as well as the ever-popular pool table.

House Rules

At Oversands all staff take your care and welfare very seriously. There are a number of rules and guidelines that you will be expected to follow whilst you are living here. They are in place to make sure that your care and safety is a priority and to make sure that your house is a nice place to live in.

When you arrive, you will be involved in setting up these rules so that you feel they are fair.

Before you join us there is one rule that you will need to know and that is we do not tolerate any form of bullying.

The support and care we give within Oversands is arranged in a way that no young people will be left alone for long periods of time and staff are available for you.

Risk assessments and care plans are in place to ensure staff get to know you well, what you like and how best to support you.

All of our bedrooms are fitted with sensors, so we can ensure you are in your room and settled. You can open your door if you need additional support as this will trigger the sensor to alert staff you are coming out of your room. This is to make sure you feel happy and safe during the night.

Staff will go through all of this with you when you arrive at Oversands.
